

How will losing weight effect my health?

Weight loss positively impacts general physical and emotional health. Patients taking prescription medication for conditions like high blood pressure, insulin, pain, joints, or cholesterol have their medications reduced rather rapidly as their general health improves.