

Will I be medically supervised?

Patients on a restricted calorie diet are medically supervised and patients with significant medical issues are medically supervised on with diet. Patients with no significant health concerns and participating in a moderate calorie diet do not require medical supervision.