

How much does this cost?

Our programs provide instruction, accountability and medical support as needed and the cost varies accordingly. Many of our patients say they actually save money on food because they don't eat out and don't stop for fast food. We have other patients tell us as their weight decreases, their health improves and so their medication cost decreases.

We believe the good health is priceless!